A computer-based information network for managing credit exposure between counterparties to a plurality of credit support agreements. The network comprises information storage and processing systems. The systems store various types of information including information representative of assets of counterparties to a plurality of credit support agreements for use in covering credit exposures therebetween over a specified time period, and the plurality of credit support agreements. The systems process the information representative of the assets in order to effectively reflect a movement of certain of the assets to cover the credit exposures over the specified time period. An asset movement optimization process is used for determining an optimal movement of certain of said assets to cover credit exposures over the specified time period.

Application	WO	2000US5644		20000303

English Abstract:

A simplified trade finance method particularly for international trade in goods and services, a "traded product", can employ one, or preferably two, novel, modified bills of exchange (1oE, 2oE). A first bill of exchange (1oE), which is a payment draft, is executed by a buyer (62), and returned to seller (60) prior to release of the traded product by seller (60). Seller (60) can obtain credit verification of the first bill of exchange (1oE), if necessary, before releasing the traded product, protecting seller (60) from failure of the buyer (62) to pay. The first bill of exchange (1oE) can be dormant and non-negotiable until activated by an event agreeable to a buyer (62), for example, release of the product. Buyer (62) is thus protected against seller (60) delaying or failing to ship the traded product after having received a payment instrument from the buyer (62).
